

How to find us

The clinic is situated at Whitewater Health Surgery in Hook which has ample parking located in an adjacent pay and display car park. Whitewater Health Surgery is situated in the heart of Hook within walking distance of bus stops and the railway station. There is a ramped access to the front door of the Surgery and lift to the first floor where the clinic will be held..

If using SATNAV please use postcode

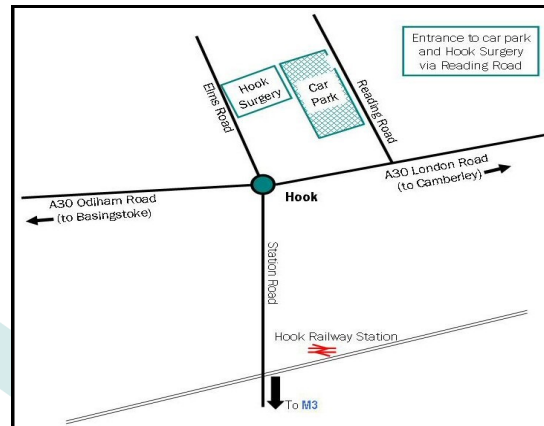

RG27 9EA.

Patients are welcome to bring their carers and translators with them if appropriate.

Patients may be at the clinic for up to an hour and so it would be preferable if no children accompanied patients to the clinic. Thank you

About the practice

THE HOOK GYNAECOLOGY CLINIC

Information for patients

Consultant led Gynaecology Clinic in your Community

The Clinic

This clinic is designed to be clinically effective with a personal service in a friendly, professional and discrete environment. It is a 'one-stop shop' where there will be an ultra-sound scanner available at the appointment plus a consultant able to interpret the results.

Your appointment will be at Whitewater Health Surgery in Hook one Thursday and one Wednesday evening a Month. We hope that busy women with many commitments will find it more convenient to attend at this time, rather than at a clinic during the day.

You will be greeted by a receptionist who will explain how the appointment will proceed. There will be a Health Care

Assistant to measure your height, weight and blood pressure and other basic tests, if this information is needed by the Consultant.

You may see the sonographer for an ultrasound scan, if that is appropriate for your condition. After the scan, you will be seen by the Gynaecological Consultant or a GP with specialist knowledge. All patients will have their case discussed with the Consultant Gynaecologist.

A female chaperone will be present at the

The Staff

The Consultant attending the clinic is Professor Christian Phillips, Consultant Gynaecologist. Professor Phillips is a highly respected Consultant at the North Hampshire Hospital and will refer patients to be seen at North Hampshire Hospital if further care is required.

Dr. Heather Lambert and Dr Victoria Freire are both experienced General Practitioners who have an interest in female health and both hold diplomas of The Royal College of Obstetricians & Gynaecologists.
